What Long Island Limousine Association Members Know That You Don't...Yet!

Truth be told, LANJ's new member benefit The LANJ Line was the brainchild of Long Island Limousine Association (LILA) immediate past president Doug Schwartz and LILA members have been using its terrific capabilities daily for several years.

Says Schwartz, "The LILA instant job trade and bulletin board service has been one of the greatest membership benefits our association has ever seen. In just a few seconds, all participating members can be notified of what you need...be it when every moment counts (when your message is sent as a text to all opted-in smart phone numbers) or in a non-time crunch (when your message is sent as an email to all opted-in email addresses and also posted on the website bulletin board page for 30 days)."

If you have yet to opt into The LANJ Line — your one-message connection to all LANJ members via LANJ.org for emergencies and everyday business problem solving — you can do so right now by simply replying to this email and providing: 1) your smartphone number; 2) your service carrier, e.g. T-Mobile; and 3) the email address that you want used for this purpose. In return, you will be emailed your LANJ Line user name and password to log into your profile on LANJ.org and then contact your fellow LANJ members with a job trade or other business message whenever you want.

Note: The smartphone number and/or the email address for The LANJ Line do not have to be your own. For example, you may prefer to use your company's dispatch smartphone number and/or email address to ensure messages sent and received are directed appropriately and expediently.
