Do You Know About Advocates for Fairness in Transportation?

If you don't already know about Advocates for Fairness in Transportation (AFT), don't wait any longer to get it on your radar.

AFT is a nonprofit organization founded five years ago by several regulated transportation service company owners to provide the latest news on TNCs like Uber and Lyft for industry stakeholders as well as the general public.

The AFT Newswatch -- news gathered from media sources throughout the world -- is disseminated without any charge to subscribers by email each Monday morning.

Yesterday's edition, for example, included articles titled "Fight for Uber and Lyft drivers to remain their own bosses heats up as November vote approaches," "Uber's revenue craters, as deliveries surge in pandemic" and "California labor commissioner sues Uber and Lyft for alleged wage theft." Each article features a short summary of the reported information and a link to the original news source for those who want to "read more."

Chauffeur Driven and NLA Announce Virtual Event Will Be Held Instead of Orlando Show in October

Citing the health and safety of attendees, Chauffeur Driven, the journal of record for the chauffeured transportation industry, and the National Limousine Association have announced the cancellation of the 2020 CD/NLA Show which had been planned for October 14-17 in Orlando.

In its place, the two organizations, says Chauffeur Driven president and publisher Chris Weiss, "are planning a world-class and well-rounded virtual event that will be the next best thing."

Watch for updates on the program at chauffeurdriven.com, limo.org and this space.
