As reported in the May 10 issue of the online bulletin Advocates for Fairness in Transportation, "People ordering Uber and Lyft rides are getting a shock when they see the prices. Fares have skyrocketed recently and experts say the cost bumps will most likely be around for the next few months. 'We've seen prices that are sometimes triple what they normally are,' said Ygal Arounian, a financial analyst with Wedbush Securities. One (California) woman's Facebook post said she paid $28 for an Uber ride from Fullerton to John Wayne Airport. Her return trip from the airport to Fullerton cost her $109."

Updated CERTS Program Guidance Released

"The Coronavirus Economic Relief for Transportation Services (CERTS) Program," as advised by the National Limousine Association in its May 7 notification to members, "is providing eligible transportation service companies with resources to help to maintain payroll, hire back employees who may have been laid off, and cover applicable overhead and operational expenses.

"Established by the Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2021, the Coronavirus Economic Relief for Transportation Services (CERTS) Program was created to support transportation service providers affected by the COVID-19 pandemic, including motor coach, school bus, passenger vessel, and pilot vessel companies.

"Under the program, Treasury will provide up to $2 billion in grants to eligible companies that certify they have experienced an annual revenue loss of 25 percent or more as a direct or indirect result of COVID-19. CERTS grant funds are primarily to cover payroll costs, but may also be used to cover the acquisition of services, equipment, including PPE and protection measures from COVID-19 for workers and customers; continued operations and maintenance of existing equipment and facilities; rent, leases, insurance, and interest on regular debt service."

See here for the Guidelines for the CERTS Grant Program, which include an overview of the grant process, eligibility requirements and grant funding, application, payments and fund usage, as issued by the U.S. Department of the Treasury on May 6, 2021.
