LANJ Donates $10,000 to Charities; Members Give More for "Blue Help"

At the 3rd Annual LANJ Golf Outing held on September 16 at the Cherry Valley Country Club in Skillman, LANJ Golf Outing Committee chair Joe Gulino (top photo, l.), president Jason Sharenow and director David Seelinger (r.) presented Wayne Paglieri of Covenant House New Jersey with a check for $5,000, a portion of the outing's proceeds.

Since 1989, Covenant House has been providing food, shelter, immediate crisis care, and an array of other important services to homeless, runaway and trafficked youth between the ages of 18-21.

In addition to the Covenant House donation and for the third year in a row, the Limousine Association of New Jersey on September 16 also presented representatives of the Police Unity Tour with a check for $5,000.

Moreover, in response to a plea from the podium to assist "Blue Help," an organization that honors police officers who have died by suicide and works to prevent such deaths, close to $2,000 was raised onsite from the event attendees. The pledges soared when Sharenow said he would match the first $1,000 "Blue Help" contribution and Seelinger said he'd match the total amount collected for the organization.

"This is such a worthy cause," explained Sharenow, "and, when they were told about it, it clearly touched the hearts of all present at the golf outing. Thanks go to everyone who immediately reached into their pockets to help and, most especially, to David Seelinger for his exceptional generosity."
